Dr. RT Good

Now in his 25th year of service at Shenandoah University, Association Dean for the Byrd School of Business, Dr. RT Good, will retire at the end of this academic year to accept appointment as dean for the College of Business and Management at Lynn University in Boca Raton, Florida. Dr. Good started in Student Affairs at SU in 1992. He has held appointments as a faculty member in Shenandoah Conservatory, served as dean for the School of Continuing Education and Northern Virginia Campus, served as dean for Global Education and Special Initiatives and, in recent years, has served as professor of management and associate dean for the Byrd School of Business. "Shenandoah University has been a terrific place to build my career and I am grateful to the institutional community and leadership for the opportunities I have had. My departure is bitter-sweet as I hate to say good-bye but I am excited and Shenandoah has prepared me well for this next opportunity with Lynn University."

Lynn University is an independent college based in Boca Raton, Florida. U.S. News & World Report recognizes the university as one of the nation's most innovative colleges and consistently ranks it among the top five most international schools, given its approximately 3,000 students from almost 100 countries. Lynn's Dialogues curriculum and award-winning iPad program help its graduates gain the intellectual flexibility and global experience to fulfill their potential in an ever-changing world. The school's NCAA Division II Fighting Knights have won 23 national titles, its Conservatory of Music features a world-renowned faculty, and its nationally recognized Institute for Achievement and Learning empowers students with learning differences to become independent learners.

Lynn's College of Business and Management is housed in the university's new LEED Platinum-certified Mohammed Indimi International Business Center. Accredited by the International Assembly for Collegiate Business Education (IACBE), the college integrates liberal arts with business subjects to encourage students to become engaged citizens in a rapidly changing and increasingly complex world. Its programs are flexible and feature an interdisciplinary curriculum customized to each student's interests, aptitudes and career goals. The university's international student population is well represented in the college, presenting an opportunity for students to engage in global business and management discussions based on real experiences.
