Remembering Jim Camerius

The following feature is adapted from remarks made at the June 2012 WACRA meeting in Stockholm, Sweden by longtime WACRA member Bud Spalding, an old friend of the late Jim Camerius.

I am appreciative of the opportunity to relate a personal story about the central figure in a friendship that ended this past spring with the death of veteran WACRA supporter James W. Camerius. This friendship began in 1962 when a 22-year-old Master's degree student appeared at the University of North Dakota (before a 27-year-old professor named Spalding). That handsome, slender young fellow was very bright, a hard worker, a good writer, and pretty shy – hard to draw out sometimes, but always a good analyst. I have often reflected over the decades since our first encounters, not bad ingredients for the case writer to come. In addition, Jim was easily the best graduate student I had.

After finishing his Master's degree and working in retail management at Dayton's Department Store in Minneapolis, he returned to his alma mater, Northern Michigan University to teach. There he remained for 47 years until his retirement, then the longest-serving faculty member in the university's history.

Many of us in WACRA knew Jim for his other, broader success, as one of the most prolific case writers we have known, with his work incorporated into probably dozens of case anthologies. We have also known him as the tough taskmaster and leader at our annual case writer's workshops for many years. His friendly and helpful advice guided the development of any number of fledgling case writers over the years. Many of us came to anticipate seeing Jim's smiling face and cheerful greetings at conventions and WACRA post-conference tours.

For us to fully appreciate the memory of that smiling appearance, the friendly greetings and helpfulness, and the professional successes, I think the adversities Jim had come through should be known. In one of our many phone calls in recent months, he had suddenly said to me, "Life is tough!" I have given that a lot of thought in the months since his passing. His life was full of painful reverses. As a child of eight years, he saw his parents break up, and his desperate mother take him from familiar Chicago to Michigan's Upper Peninsula, her home country where expenses were lower, but where the youngster knew no one. Later Jim's own marriage ended badly, leaving him despondent enough to walk off a pier into Lake Superior – though he did not recall how it happened.

He undertook doctoral programs at two different leading universities, making excellent progress in each case, until running afoul of internal politics that complicated his programs. After being delayed at the first school, he grew discouraged and returned to full-time teaching and casework. When attracted later to the second program, he was determined not to be bitter about his earlier disappointment. However, incredibly, the same kind of political imbroglio ensnared him again. He vowed to outlast it this time, but the hard-working, keen analyst eventually pulled the plug on that effort, too. His university was eager to have him return and lead a new accreditation effort, and his case writing success was growing.

That is when WACRA entered his life and gave it added meaning. How many times did I hear Jim speak gratefully of WACRA and our friendly members, and especially Hans and Emmi, for adding so much professionally and personally to his life? He commented often to his old professor about how travels to WACRA conferences in different parts of the world had added an important dimension to his growth as a teacher and a person.

Therefore, for those of us who knew Jim Camerius for a long time and maybe even for those who knew him for only a few years, I think we will miss him for quite awhile. Even more for all the stuff, we have come to know that he had to face down, in order to develop the spirit to overcome all those adversities - and in gratitude, that he became our valuable colleague and very good friend.

Morocco

WACRA® Educational-Cultural Experience January 6-12, 2013

Glamour and romance are two of the most essential elements for inspiring unforgettable voyages and cultural experiences. Morocco has both in abundance. It is the land of Marrakech-Casablanca - Meknes - Fez - Tangier, to name a few. Just the words alone are enough to make all those with emotion in their souls both dreamy and wistful.

They conjure up images of shimmering sands, chisel-faced and cleft-jawed warriors on horseback, the forts the legion abandoned, palm-fringed oases and, perhaps, most importantly, that potent sense of myth and mystery; the unexplained and the unexplored.

There is one word that captures it all: Excitement. And that is what travellers and conference delegates will experience from start to finish. From the moment they arrive, everything will be exotic: from language to landscape, from menus to mountains, and from tours to cultural events. Quite simply, Morocco is magic and everyone who goes there falls under its spell!

At just a few hours from the main European cities, Morocco has everything to overwhelm you with the amazing color, smells and sounds of Islamic Africa. Imagine bustling souqs and spice markets, stunning mosques, whitewashed sea side towns and medieval city centers. With panoramic views varying from snow-covered peaks in the High Atlas to the endless sand dunes of the Sahara, no-one ever is left untouched in this beautiful country.

Morocco is a North African country that has a coastline on both the North Atlantic Ocean and the Mediterranean Sea. It has borders with Western Sahara to the south, Algeria to the east and the Spanish North African territories of Ceuta and Melilla on the Mediterranean coast in the north. It is just across the Strait from Gibraltar.

Morocco's geographic situation at a cultural crossroads has for centuries left it vulnerable to external cultural imposition. The legacy of such varied influence from within and without is the extremely rich and surprisingly harmonious tapestry of modern Morocco. While the soul of Morocco is revealed in art, its body is reflected in the souks. All the colors, sounds and smells of the country are mingled here. The souk of Fez has been declared one of the world's cultural treasures by UNESCO. Morocco is a very safe country with an ancient tradition of hospitality so travelers feel secure and very welcome. The physical beauty and cultural brilliance together with an extensive tourist infrastructure of exquisite modern hotels, and resorts; world class golf courses and excellent guides makes Morocco one of the most exciting and fulfilling travel destinations in the world.

The face of Morocco is a shifting tableau. The landscape itself varies dramatically throughout the country. Broad peaceful beaches give way to lively gem like cities perched around and among rolling green hills and ragged.

Movie-famous Casablanca might be the most famous of Moroccan cities and is home to the huge Hassan II mosque, the second largest mosque in the world with only the Grand Mosque of Mecca surpassing it. Admiring the impressive colonial architecture, Hispano-Moorish and art-deco outlook of the city center is a journey into world history. Marrakech is known as the 'Red City' or the 'Pearl of the South' and probably the most prominent former imperial capital. A visit will leave you with memories to cherish for life. This fabled city, once the capital of Morocco, pulsates with energy. Every road leads to the famous Jema El Fna Square, where there is always a kaleidoscope both of color and activity. There, musicians, dancers and fire-eaters rub shoulders with public scribes, storytellers and acrobats, and vendors of fresh orange juice vie with grilled nut salesmen for business from passersby. In the evening, the lamps are lit and the hot food stalls are set up. Before long, the balm of nightfall is accompanied by the delicious smells of roasting meat, couscous, harira and freshly baked doughnuts.

Suddenly, as you turn the corner of a narrow street, through a half open door, you catch a glimpse of a palace with a fountain cascading in the fore court. The Bahia Palace, with its gardens filled with the fragrance of jasmine and orange flower, or the Dar Si-Said, which now houses the Museum of Moroccan Arts. Everything in Marrakech is worth seeing: the impersonal beauty of the Saadian Tombs, the Ben Youssef Medersa and the majestic ruins of the Badii Palace, built by Ahmed El Mansour using the most precious materials; gold, onyx and Italian marble, all traded for their weight in sugar.

Then there are the souks. To wander through a souk is to be drawn into Aladdin's cave of fine rugs, silverware, jewelry, basketry, pottery, wood carving and exceptional leatherware, for which Morocco is renowned. In Marrakech, the leatherwork, pottery, rugs and copper plates are of particularly high quality.

Fez, once Morocco's capital, is another gorgeous imperial city. Get lost in its lovely labyrinth of narrow Medieval streets, enjoy its huge medina, see the beautiful city gates, the ancient University of Al-Karaouine and the Bou Inania Madras. Also, make sure to visit a traditional leather tanning factory. There is a strong tradition of high quality craft-work in all the Imperial cities. Rabat is

The Board is delighted to announce that the 15th Creative Teaching Conference will take place in Casablanca, Morocco from January 3-5, 2013.

Glamour and romance are two of the most essential elements for inspiring unforgettable voyages and cultural experiences. Morocco has both in abundance. It is the land of Marrakech-Casablanca - Meknes - Fez - Tangier, to name a few. Just the words alone are enough to make all those with emotion in their souls, both dreamy and wistful. The conference title is "Effective Interactive Teaching". For the Calls for Papers, the Preliminary Conference Program and other details go to pages 3, 6, 7, 11-14 and the registration information on page 15. Submit papers, panels and workshop proposals for ACT15 NOW for an expedited review and register before Nov. 3, 2012. An exciting optional tour is offered to visit the Royal cities of Casablanca, Rabat, Fez, Meknes and Marrakech - January 6-12, 2013. You find details on pages 3, 6, 7, 14 and 15. The tour includes six nights in 4*/5* hotels (or equivalent.), six breakfasts & dinners (exclusive beverages), a farewell dinner in Casablanca, modern, A/C bus, English speaking guide throughout the entire tour, sightseeing program (including entrance fees, porter fees, documentation and guide), bankruptcy insurance. Contact Denise Smith today at denise.smith@wacra.org to let WACRA know if you will join in this event.

There is one word that captures the 2013 WACRA Winter Conference in Morocco: Excitement. And that is what conference delegates will experience from start to finish. From the moment you arrive, everything will be exotic: from language to landscape, from menus to mountains, and from tours to cultural events. Quite simply, Morocco is magic and everyone who goes there falls under its spell!

For the 2013, 30th International Conference on Case Method Research & Application, WACRA will return to Berlin, Germany. The Conference will take place at the Maritim Hotel Berlin located in the center of town, within easy walking distance from Postdamer Platz, the Jewish Memorial, the Brandenburg Gate (Brandenburger Tor), Tiergarten, the Government Center, German Parliament (Bundestag), and the Museum Island with world famous museums like the Pergamon Museum. The 30-year anniversary conference is scheduled from July 7-10, 2013. WACRA staff is preparing an exciting academic program and a cultural, educational and immersion experience for all participants. Details of the post conference tour will be posted on the WACRA website when they become available. For the Calls for Papers and the Preliminary Conference Program, refer to the details in this NEWSletter on pages 6, 9 and 10.

Earlier this year, WACRA lost a valued colleague and friend when Dr. James Camerius passed away. Jim, as everybody fondly called him, was a true case method aficionado and passionate in the support he gave to his colleagues around the world. To commemorate his work, WACRA is proposing a Scholarship Fund in his name to assist students and faculty in their case writing activities. All who knew Jim, heard of him, attended his case writing workshops and colloquia are invited to join WACRA in celebrating his legacy and to contribute to this fund. You can use the amended 2013 WACRA Membership Dues Renewal Form to make your contribution. The WACRA Boards invite you to participate in the exciting activities planned for the coming year and beyond.

The International Journal of Case Method Research & Application - IJCRA, 'your journal', is in its 8th year of publishing 'state of the art' papers on Case Method Research and Application (four issues per year with a Spanish language issue from time to time). IJCRA provides WACRA members, case writers and case teachers from around the world the opportunity to share their work with colleagues, to learn from colleagues and to create an international network for case writing, case teaching and interactive teaching applications. The International Journal of Case Research and Application (IJCRA) is the official publication of WACRA and as such aims to publish high-quality manuscripts that capture innovation and creativity in learning and interactive teaching methods globally. To make available the published work of IJCRA authors to case writers, teachers, researchers and scholars world wide, WACRA® moves four quarterly issues of IJCRA to the public domain at the end of each year. Current issues of the Journal are reserved to WACRA members in good standing.

The new WACRA Publication Partnership Project - W3P responds to member interest to develop WACRA-based partnerships that focus on producing high quality manuscripts suitable for IJCRA publication (details on page 8).

For your promotion and tenure applications (P&T), you should know that Cabell lists IJCRA in its Directory of Publishing Opportunities in Management. Cabell is the largest citation index and directory of academic journals in the U.S.A. University administrators (deans, department chairs) in the U.S.A. and in other countries will consider for P&T decisions a faculty publication in a journal listed by Cabell.

All WACRA activities, including the extensive review/rewriting/editing efforts for IJCRA publications, are financed through membership dues and program revenues. Rising costs necessitate the first WACRA membership dues increase since 2004. You can lock-in 2012 rates, if you prepay your dues for two years (2013 and 2014) before December 1, 2012. Please take the time NOW and renew your membership.

JIM CAMERIUS SCHOLARSHIP FUND

To Assist Case-writing Students and Faculty

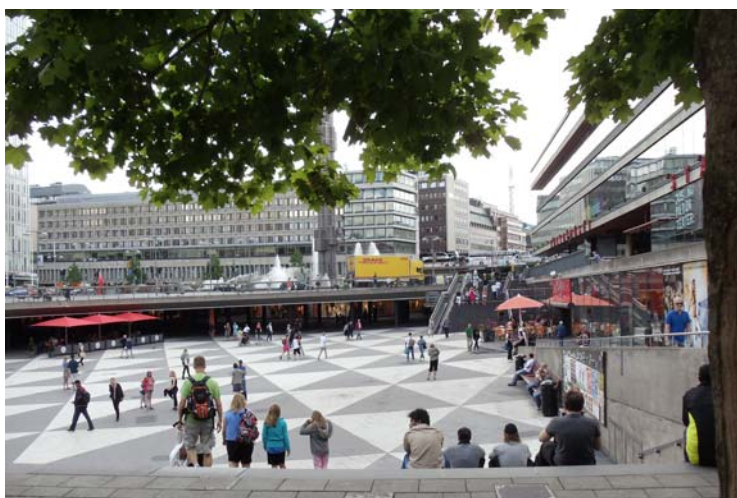

WACRA® is initiating a memorial fund in Jim Camerius' name to advance the cause of case method teaching, learning and research. Camerius, who died earlier this year after retirement from Northern Michigan State University, for many years headed the case writing workshops and colloquia at WACRA's annual summer conferences. He mentored numerous younger faculty members interested in both teaching with cases and writing cases for classroom use. His enthusiasm and energy contributed to the acceptance and use of cases in teaching and learning around the world. He also consulted with governments and nonprofit organizations that employed the case method in training exercises.

Educational institutions and private organizations, as well as individuals, are encouraged to consider contributing to the Camerius Scholarship Fund, to assist faculty and students engaged in case writing and other activities promoting the growth of the case method. Seed funding is already under way, with contributions from several universities in North America and Europe. WACRA® is hopeful that a system of matching grants can soon be implemented as well.

Send your check drawn on an American Bank, made payable to WACRA® (or pay by Visa or MasterCard credit card) to WACRA®, 23 Mackintosh Ave, NEEDHAM (BOSTON), MA 02492-1218 U.S.A. You can also add your contribution to your membership renewal. Suggested contributions: $100, $200, $500, other.

Practical Information for Morocco

Climate - Most of the year, Morocco enjoys a temperate climate. Near the coast, the influence of the sea moderates summer heatwaves, and in winter the average temperatures rarely drop below 10°C (50°F). The interior of the country, with a continental climate, is hotter than the coast in summer and colder in winter.

Health - No special inoculations are required for visiting Morocco. Consult your physician. Travel health insurance is a wise investment before you leave home. Avoid too much sun, wear a hat and use a sun screen. It is prudent to drink mineral water and to avoid dubious food stalls.

Formalities - For most tourists no visa is required to enter Morocco; all you need is a valid passport.

Social Graces - Moroccans are friendly and open with visitors. Much hand-shaking goes on, but that's about as much formality as you're liable to meet. If you can learn few elementary phrases in Arabic you'll be rewarded with surprised smiles and kindness.

Crime - Carrying whopping bankrolls or flashy jewelry only tempts fate. Keep valuables in your hotel safe. Leave nothing of value in a car, visible or hidden, locked or unlocked. In crowded markets and terminals beware of pick-pockets.

Currency and Credit Cards - The unit of currency is the Moroccan dirham (DH), divided into 100 centimes. In practice, tourists rarely see anything smaller than a half-dirham coin. Coins go up to 5 DH. Banknotes are issued in denominations of 10, 50, 100 and 200 DH. Major credit cards such as visa, mastercard and American Express are accepted in hotels, restaurants and most shops. It's best to change traveller's cheques at the bank. Always have your passport with you as identification when changing money.

Time - Greenwich Mean time (GMT) all year.

Tipping - People often let you know, subtly or otherwise, when a tip is appropriate. Don't forget waiters in cafés and restaurants, porters in hotels and terminals, toilet attendants, taxi drivers and helpful museum curators.

Voltage - in most of the country is 220 volts. There are some places that still have a 110 volt. Sockets are of the continental variety, with two round pins.

Chez Ali - Arabian Fantasia

Optional Dinner (Marrakech) Separate registration see page 15.

Fantasia dinner, where myth and reality come live in this magnificent complex while a succulent dinner composed of Moroccan soup, roast lamb, couscous (the Moroccan national dish) and fruit are served to participants.

During dinner, various folklore troops come to the tents and entertain the guests. After dinner, a spectacular performance including an equestrian fantasia and a laser show are highlights of the evening.

New Membership Rates Effective 1.1.2013

Rising costs necessitate the first WACRA membership dues increase since 2004. Effective January 1, 2013, for calendar year 2013, the membership dues are as follows:

Regular USD 85,
Retired Faculty $45,
Associate members (Advanced Students) USD 75,
Organization Rate USD 600,
IJCRA Library Subscription Rate USD 1,050.

Save, by prepaying, before December 1, 2012 at 2012 rates, the membership dues for two years (calendar years 2013 and 2014). Renew now by using the form on page 16 or the Dues Form on the WACRA website.

Need Help Publishing Your Scholarly Work?

WACRA Publication Partnership Project (W3P)

The International Journal of Case Research and Application (IJCRA) is the official publication of WACRA and as such aims to publish high-quality manuscripts that capture innovation and creativity in learning and interactive teaching methods globally. The WACRA Publication Partnership Project responds to member interest to develop WACRA-based partnerships that focus on producing high quality manuscripts suitable for IJCRA publication. To help facilitate W3P, WACRA is establishing a database so that lead authors (individuals seeking partners) and secondary co-authors (individuals willing to work with and support lead authors) can find each other.

To build the database, WACRA is asking lead authors and co-authors to submit the following:

Lead authors: Choose from your work an article that has IJCRA potential. This could be a case study under development, an article about innovation in teaching, etc. Submit a 1 - 2 page summary of the research to the WACRA database. The summary should include a section on each of the following: the purpose of the research, the methodology, the findings (if available), and the conclusions (if determined). Please also include your name, school and department affiliation, current email address, native language, and whether you prefer a co-author within your discipline. Lead authors are encouraged to post a representative example of their English-language usage. A lead author may also wish to upload a three minute video clip of himself in which he talks about: the topic of his research/case, the methodology, the findings, and the conclusions.

Co-authors. Submit a brief summary of the kinds of partners with whom you would like to collaborate. This may include colleagues in a specific discipline, colleagues who share a specific research focus, or colleagues from a specific region in the world. Co-authors should be willing to work with lead authors to put ideas into proper English, to help organize the paper according to accepted academic standards, and to help format the paper according to IJCRA guidelines. Please also include 1 – 2 pages from one of your published articles, a discussion of your own research and publication interests, and your name, school and department affiliation and current email address.

Partnership. Co-authors will contact lead authors with whom they are willing to work. Lead authors and co-authors will mutually decide if they want to form a partnership.

When you have formed a partnership, the lead author should inform WACRA so that the entry can be deleted from the database. W3P papers submitted to IJCRA will undergo the same rigorous, blind peer review as all other papers.

About WACRA®...

Founded in 1984, WACRA® evolved from contacts between professors, researchers, policy-makers, professionals and business executives into a world-wide, interdisciplinary organization of professionals and academics from fifty countries. The organizations' objectives are to advance the use of the case method in teaching, training, and planning; to encourage research using the case method; to coordinate case writing and case application activities; and to encourage cooperation between the public sector, the business community, and other case-oriented professions. Its initial focus on the case method has broadened to include games and simulations and other interactive learning and teaching methods as corollaries to cases.

WACRA® organizes forums, symposia, workshops, training sessions, doctoral consortia and conferences, including international meetings at which participants have the opportunity to exchange ideas, present their research, and share the results of case writing and case method applications. Previous conference sites: Lausanne & Leysin, Switzerland; London, UK; Enschede, Holland; Boston, U.S.A.; Limerick & Dublin, Ireland; Bratislava, Slovakia & Vienna, Austria; Montreal & Vancouver, Canada; Warsaw, Poland; Edinburgh, Scotland; Marseille, France; Cáceres, Spain; Budapest, Hungary; Lund & Stockholm, Sweden; Berlin & Mannheim, Germany; Bordeaux, France; Buenos Aires, Argentina; Brno, Czech Republic; Brisbane, Australia; Guadalajara, Mexico, Barranquilla, Colombia.

WACRA 2013 is scheduled for Berlin, Germany (July 2013). Membership is open to all individuals and organizations wishing to advance the objectives of the association. As a member you receive substantial discounts on publications and meetings, and access to the International Journal of Case Method Research & Application. You have the opportunity for networking, consulting and to associate with professionals working with cases and interactive methods on an international scale.

CALL FOR PAPERS

CASE METHOD

Research, Application, Case Writing, Interactive Methods - 30th International Conference
Case Teaching & Writing, Distance & Continuing Education, Multimedia, Simulations

Berlin, GermanyJuly 7-10, 2013“New Paradigms - Meeting the Challenge”*

The case method can play an important role in solving problems and in teaching problem-solving, as well as in initiating and managing change. Thus this conference provides opportunities for participants to learn more about teaching using the case method and related instructional approaches in a variety of educational settings. Participants will have ample opportunity to meet colleagues from around the world with whom they can forge research partnerships. WACRA® conferences are interdisciplinary multinational forums for scholars in the disciplines and professional fields (such as business, communication, education, engineering, history, law, medicine, psychology, public policy, social work) and practitioners in business and industry, education and government.

Papers are solicited that analyze theory and practice using cases, simulations, videos and related instructional methods for problem solving, managing change and innovation. Priority will be given to papers that are interdisciplinary, international, and/or comparative. Papers reporting the application of cases in university and professional training programs in diverse settings and papers on the evaluation of the case method and its related forms for teaching and learning are encouraged. Contributions investigating challenges (and suggesting solutions) faced by and among disciplines and international partners. The most innovative presentation and the outstanding paper are recognized.

Submissions should include (1) a cover page including: title, name, affiliation, address, tel. & fax numbers and e-mail address of the author(s), (2) a proposal summary (not exceeding 4 pages), or the completed paper (not exceeding 12 pages). Download the manuscript guidelines from the WACRA web site below. The summary should state clearly the objectives, the framework, and the nature of the proposal and be responsive to the criteria used for review. The name of the author(s) should not appear on the summary page to facilitate the blind peer review.

Receipt of all proposals/papers will be acknowledged and the results of the review will be sent by way of e-mail. All proposals and papers are due on or before January 15, 2013. Completed papers received prior to March 31, 2013 will be considered for publication in the refereed International Journal of Case Method Research & Application -IJCRA. Conference language is English with tracks in German, French and Spanish. Visit www.wacra.org for further details or contact WACRA directly.

business are also solicited. Proposals for case writing & development and actual cases placed in diverse settings are invited, e.g. joint-cross-cultural cases. While a main focus of the WACRA conferences is on using cases for teaching and problem-solving, scholarly papers that report research using the case method are welcome. WACRA is particularly interested in scholarly papers that enhance the understanding and collaboration between

SOLICITUD DE ARTÍCULOS

Congreso Internacional ACT XV

*Investigación y Aplicación – Redacción de Casos, y Educación a DistanciaCasablanca, Marruecosdel 3 al 12 de Enero de 2013ACT 15 – “Enseñanza eficaz”

Este congreso provee, a los participantes, de oportunidades de aprender y compartir con expertos y colegas, métodos y enfoques de Enseñanza Creativa. El énfasis está puesto en “Enseñanza y Aprendizaje” a través de Workshops interactivos y en el compartir investigaciones o aplicaciones de formación. Los métodos presentados y discutidos incluyen el método de casos y enfoques de metodologías relacionadas en variados contextos académicos. Los participantes tendrán una interesante oportunidad de reunirse con colegas de todo el mundo con quienes pueden forjar asociaciones para investigación o educación.

Los Congresos de ACT y WACRA son foros multidisciplinarios e internacionales para académicos en áreas tales como negocios, educación, ingeniería, leyes, medicina, políticas públicas, trabajo social y practicantes en la industria, educación y gobierno.

Se solicitan artículos que demuestren prácticas y propuestas de Enseñanza Creativa.

Se dará prioridad a los artículos que sean innovativos, interdisciplinarios y/o internacionales. Se alienta el envío de artículos que informen sobre la aplicación de la enseñanza y aprendizaje creativo en programas universitarios o de formación empresarial y artículos que reporten la evaluación de esos métodos.

Las propuestas y los artículos serán evaluados con un proceso de doble revisión a ciegas, siendo sus bases: a) originalidad; b) lo apropiado del tema para una audiencia interdisciplinaria; c) lo adecuado de la investigación; y, d) la contribución a la comprensión de los temas de enseñanza y aprendizaje.

Los envíos deben incluir: 1) una página de presentación con título del trabajo, nombre, afiliación, dirección, teléfono, mail, fax de los autores; 2) un resumen de la propuesta que no exceda las 4 páginas o el artículo completo que no exceda las 15 páginas. Los lineamientos para la redacción del artículo están en la página web de WACRA. El resumen debe establecer, claramente, los objetivos del trabajo, su marco conceptual y la naturaleza de la propuesta, además, debe responder a los criterios que se utilizan para su evaluación. El nombre del autor/es no debe aparecer en la página con el resumen para facilitar la revisión a ciegas.

Se notificará, la recepción de su artículo y los resultados de la revisión, por email. Todas las propuestas y artículos deben ser enviadas antes de Noviembre 8, 2012. los artículos completos, terminados deben ser recibidos antes de diciembre 31 de 2012, para ser considerada su publicación en IJCRA. Las inscripciones al Congreso deben ser realizadas antes de Noviembre 3, 2012.

CALL FOR PAPERS, PRESENTATIONS AND PANELS

ACT15 Conference

"Effective Interactive Teaching"Casablanca, Morocco

January 3 - 12, 2013, including Educational-Cultural Event

The 15th "Creative Teaching" conference provides opportunities for participants to learn from and to share with experts and colleagues innovative creative teaching approaches and methods. The emphases are on 'Teaching and Learning' through interactive workshops and by sharing of research and teaching/training applications. The methods discussed and presented include the case method and related instructional approaches in a variety of educational settings including distance learning. Participants will have ample opportunity to meet colleagues from around the world with whom they can forge research/teaching partnerships. ACT and WACRA® conferences are interdisciplinary, multinational forums for scholars in the disciplines and professional fields such as business, education, engineering, law, medicine, public policy, social work and practitioners in business and industry, education and government.

Papers are solicited that report on Creative Teaching practices and proposals. Priority will be given to papers that are innovative, interdisciplinary, and/or international. Papers reporting the application of creative teaching and learning in university and professional training programs in diverse settings and papers on the evaluation of such methods and its related forms for teaching and learning are encouraged.

Proposals and papers will be evaluated through a blind peer review process on the basis of (a) originality; (b) the appropriateness of the topic for an interdisciplinary audience; (c) the technical adequacy of the inquiry; and (d) the contribution to the understanding of teaching/learning issues.

Submissions should include (1) a cover page including: title, name, affiliation, address, tel. & fax numbers and e-mail address of the author(s), (2) a proposal summary (not exceeding 4 pages) or the completed paper (not exceeding 12 pages). Download the manuscript guidelines from our web site below. The summary should state clearly the objectives, the framework, and the nature of the proposal and be responsive to the criteria used for review. The name of the author(s) should not appear on the summary page to facilitate the blind peer review.

Receipt of your proposal/paper will be acknowledged and the results of the review will be sent by way of email. All proposals and papers are due on or before November 8, 2012. Completed papers received prior to December 31, 2012 will be considered for publication in the International Journal of Case Method Research & Application - IJCRA. Conference registrations are due on or before November 3, 2012. For further details visit the WACRA web site or contact ACT-WACRA directly.
